Bed capacity is a major issue affecting hospitals and critical care facilities around the world as they battle to cope with the COVID-19 pandemic.

Overwhelming demand for beds has forced many hospitals to repurpose space within their facilities to accommodate more patients. Ensuring appropriate infection control measures and preserving the dignity of patients at their most vulnerable is a huge challenge.

SwiftScreen is a versatile, mobile solution for patient privacy and infection control. Affordable, robust and simple to use, it provides clinical staff with a vital tool for dividing wards, isolating individual patients and creating private spaces within busy departments.
